This is a sample of the documents and the software that was used to extract the text from the image. The software has been trained on a large dataset of documents and can accurately interpret the content. The text has been accurately transcribed and is ready for further analysis.